

Academic Honor Code

"The Ashla student will not deceive, manipulate or take from others nor will he or she condone those who do. At all times, the Ashla student rises to the highest standard of conduct becoming an Ashla Knight, and conducts his or herself in a manner that brings honor and respect to his or herself, fellow students, instructors and to the Order of Ashla Knights."

The Student Honor Code is the first aspect of Ashla Knights training new students become acquainted with for it establishes the standard of character Knights of the Order come to embody. Established in 2003 as an on-line forum community dedicated to philosophical growth and spiritual exploration, the very basic tenets of ethical conduct and moral behavior enable the Order of Ashla Knights to remain a safe, structured and trustworthy on-line community.

The mission of Ashla Knights is one of charity and service, and embarking upon this path means that one day this mission will be yours. However, before one can execute this mission in the name of Ashla Knights, he or she must first achieve Knighthood. This means one must complete the initial training curriculum and negotiating the Trials. In the course of training, new insights and concepts will be discovered and explored, yet the true value of Ashla Knights training is gained from the experiences of providing aid, comfort and relief to those in need.

We take great pride in our Knights for their strength in character and commitment to a philosophy, practice and path constantly call for them to do what they think they cannot on a daily basis. The path of an Ashla Knight is as demanding as it is rewarding and it is our sincere hope that it is a challenge you will consider accepting.
